Richmond River

The Richmond River is a dominant feature in the local natural landscape. For generation after generation it has continued to play a major role in the life of our local community; offering employment, recreation and rejuvenation.

There are excellent fishing spots along the river, its estuaries and the break walls at the river mouth. It is also the perfect place to discover marine life, pelicans and dolphins.

Aboriginal heritage

We respectfully acknowledge the past and present Nyangbul Elders and pay our respects to their descendants as the traditional custodians of this land.

Nyangbul custodianship of the Ballina Shire area dates back many thousands of generations. Together with all Australian Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures, the Nyangbul people are part of the oldest and continuing culture in the world.

European history

In 1828 Captain Henry Rous aboard the HMS Rainbow 'discovered' and named the Richmond River.

Cedar getting families were among the first Europeans to settle on the Richmond River at Ballina from 1842.

Within a few years, Ballina had become a small centre known as Richmond Heads that serviced smaller cedar settlements along the tributaries of the river. As the number of camps in the area grew, more settlers came including storekeepers and shipwrights, teachers, clergy and farmers.

"Ballina"

believed to have been derived from the Aboriginal world Bullinah meaning 'place of plenty or big stomach, plenty to eat'

Historic Ballina Riverfront Walk

4.2km 55 mins one way

The trail consists of nineteen signage panels located along the pathway between Fawcett Park and North Wall in East Ballina. The trail provides brief insights into the historic importance of the river to the shire's earliest European settlers and residents.

At the beginning of the walk, inspect the public art by some of our local artists and read about their significance and what inspired them overleaf. Take a voyage of discovery at the Ballina Naval & Maritime Museum. Keep an eye out for dolphins, turtles and bird life as you follow the waterways – definitely a highlight!

Norton Street Heritage Trail

___ _ 1.1km 20 mins

Takes you from the Richmond River to Meldrum Park, on the edge of North Creek. The street is lined with majestic Norfolk Island pines and dotted with delightful old cottages steeped in Ballina's heritage.

Enjoy a historic tour of Ballina Manor, a former prestigious girls college, now a boutique hotel refurbished with 1920's period furniture and architecture. The Manor offers free tours daily from 10am-4pm.

Public Art by Local Artists

STEPTOE Fawcett Park

Local artist, Frank Miles life-size bronze pelican Steptoe was commissioned by Ballina Shire Council in honour of the late Lance Ferris, the towns' famed 'Pelican Man'.

The wharf at Fawcett Park was renamed Lance Ferris Wharf in honour of Lance, who dedicated his life to the rescue, rehabilitation and preservation of seabirds, turtles, and in particular the magnificent pelican. It was through his many years as a dedicated volunteer, using his own money and whatever donations he could find that Australian Seabird Rescue (ASR) came into existence in Ballina in 1992.

FIVE STEEL STATUES Fawcett Park

Further along Fawcett Park you will notice five statues created by local artist, Joe Stark in 2004. These five whimsical sculptures are created from recycled stainless steel (beer kegs, sinks, etc) and car axles. Freely moving in the abundant coastal wind currents that batter the region, they have weathered a few wild storms over the years.

SOMEONE'S ALWAYS WATCHING YOU River Street

Someone's Always Watching You is a suite of integrated architectural elements featuring original artworks by local artist, Digby Moran.

Commissioned by Woolworths, Moran's paintings were transformed into corten steel window screens using a unique fabrication technique. You can see and touch these pieces and read the artists statement of what inspired him at the River Street front of Woolworths.

NORTHERN RIVERS COMMUNITY GALLERY 44 Cherry Street

The Northern Rivers Community Gallery (NRCG) is housed in the historic former Ballina Municipal Council Chambers. Built in 1927, Ballina Shire Council renovated this building in 2007 to the highest standards in lighting, climate control and security. The building now provides an exceptional space for patrons to enjoy exhibitions and other public programs.
